Find the right IT executive and management talent every time

Infopeople has an enviable track record in the delivery of IT executive and management appointments. We provide local, national and multinational organisations with accomplished IT business leaders and industry innovators who are able to formulate, lead and manage strategic business change. Outstanding people, who make a difference.

Infopeople offers extensive IT executive search and recruitment expertise across a diverse range of sectors, including: technology and telecommunications, financial services, industry, professional services, retail and consumer, healthcare and the public sector. We have one of Australia's most extensive networks of IT executive contacts, built through many years of relationship development.

Our executive search and recruitment consultants draw upon a wealth of senior management recruiting experience and a superior understanding of the markets in which our clients operate. Our industry experts invest considerable time in understanding and shaping our clients' requirements. We are able to provide invaluable insight and advice to clients looking to recruit talented CIOs and senior IT executives.

While the IT recruitment marketplace is highly competitive, we use our ability to harmonise our client and candidate expectations to deliver success in IT executive search and recruitment. By constantly moving forward and working as a trusted partner with our clients and executive candidates, Infopeople is dedicated to maintaining its enviable position in Australia's IT recruitment marketplace.

Executive recruitment

Our executive search and recruitment team has developed a portfolio of specialist services.

Executive Recruitment Campaigns

We deliver a range of specialist IT executive recruitment programmes. Our services focus on meeting pre-defined requirements and objectives and cover all activities from project management, through advertising and response handling, to assessment and delivery.

Executive Search

Our 'head-hunting' process focuses on identifying and retaining high-level executives with specialist knowledge in the areas of Information Technology, IT Sales and Marketing, ICT Consultancy and/or Telecommunications. We work in partnership with our clients, adding our experience to their recruitment programmes and processes.

Interim Management

Business success often rests on the urgent need to fill short-term gaps in senior management, created by a host of situations from unforeseen departures to business turnaround, project management, change management or merger and acquisition. The benefits of interim managers has been proven time and again as more and more organisations utilise this high value, low risk approach to solving challenges in both the private and public sectors. Infopeople is able to match our clients requirements for high-quality, solutions-orientated interim managers who can deliver results, and add enormous value to an organisation, at short notice.

Interim Project Management

Infopeople has extensive experience providing interim project management personnel. We can provide the qualified project directors/managers to jump start your existing effort, or identify quick-hits to get a stalled or underperforming project back on track.

Advertised Selection

With advertised selection we manage campaigns on a client's behalf. We have extensive experience formulating effective advertising initiatives and selecting the most relevant media supported by our experience, our partners and our purchasing power.

Business Process Outsourcing

Our BPO service enables organisations to outsource functions and processes allowing for better workforce flexibility, reduced costs and enhanced performance. Infopeople can work with you to implement long-term business process outsourcing programmes covering recruitment and payroll.
